

THE BATTLE FOR SALVATION: Hangar Bay Tournament (Sunday, October 9, 2016)

Sponsored by the Brothers Grimm Games & Collectibles

What is a Hangar Bay?

The Hangar Bay format is a new way to play competitively, introduced by Fantasy Flight Games during the System Open Series tournaments. The Hangar Bay format was used as a side event during those massive events for those who had finished playing in the main event. It allows a player to use two different lists in the same tournament, mixing things up and letting the players have a wider variety of play.

How does it work?

In order to play in the Hangar Bay event, each player will need to bring two standard squads that follow the 100-point limit. Both of these squads will use the same damage deck and obstacles. For this event, we will also be using the Squadron Rule: your two squads cannot share any of the same pilots.

Hangar Bay format rounds each begin by placing your first squad on your left, and your second squad on your right. After evaluating your opponent's squads, both of you will secretly select which squad to field for this round by using a maneuver dial. Rotate to a 1-speed maneuver to select your first squad on your left, or a 2-speed maneuver to select your second squad on your right, and then place your maneuver dial facedown. Next, each player reveals their dial simultaneously, and removes their unselected squad from the table.

Can both squads be from the same faction?

Yes.

Do I have to play each list I bring?

Yes. Each player must use each of their lists at least once during the event.

How many rounds will there be in the event?

The number of rounds will be based upon how many players are attending, as per the Basic Structure in the Fantasy Flight Games Tournament Regulations.

Pertaining to squadron building, unique pilots and corresponding crew cards. Can I have Kanan as a pilot in one list and have him as a crew in the other?

Yes. The limit on pilots does not pertain to crew cards.

When and where is the event being held?

Sunday October 9th, 2016, 10:00AM

The Battle for Salvation at The Palisades Mall Center

How much is the Entry Fee?

$10.00

NOTE*

Players who entered the Star Wars X-Wing GT at Battle for Salvation will receive FREE entry into this event! (This event will take place alongside the Top Cut finals from GT)

What time does the event start?

Sign ups start at 10:00 AM, Round 1 begins at 10:30 AM.

Do I have to bring copies of my lists?

Yes. This will fast track registration and ensure a quick start time.